

Loans by size of firms – January 2020

Granting of new loans remains sustained

- At the end of January 2020, the outstanding amount of drawn credit reaches 1053.0 billion euros, up by 4.7% year-on-year, after a rise of 4.3% between December 2018 and December 2019.
- Credit growth remains strong for SMEs (+6.3%, after + 6.1% in December) and large companies (+3.1% over one year, after +0.6% in December). The credit growth for large companies is structurally more fluctuating than for other sizes. The stagnation of drawn credit for intermediate-sized companies (+0.0% year-on-year, compared to +0.3% in December) is in part due to a one-off operation of repayment in November 2019.
- The growth of the outstanding amount of drawn credit remains above average in the real estate activities (+ 6.5%), sectors of advisory and business support activities (+7.0%), and accommodation and food services activities (+5.6%). The sectors that benefit from the largest amount of bank finance (exc. Real estate activities) report a more moderate growth: construction sector (+0.7%), transportation and storage (+1.7%) and industry (+1.8%).
- The average interest rate on new loans to non-financial corporations of more than EUR 1 million rises at 1.41%, up 11 basis points from December. This fluctuation is attributable to a few one-off operations. The interest rate on loans up to EUR 1 million stands at 1.47%, a slight decrease of 1 basis point compared to December 2019.
